Explain and discuss the respective changes

We discussed the final modifications to the document and made important decisions regarding its content. One significant decision was to change the repository from GitHub to Google Drive. This change was motivated by our aim to enhance file sharing, organization, and collaboration within the team.

During the meeting, each team member had an opportunity to explain their respective changes to the document. These modifications were based on the valuable feedback and suggestions provided in the previous meeting. By actively involving each team member, we ensured that their expertise and perspectives were incorporated, resulting in a more refined and comprehensive document.

Today's outputs of the meeting:

1. We determined the Application's name.
2. We will modify the "User rule and operating environment" section, which falls under the "Overview description" subsection.
3. We will also exclude the "Browser" from the "External interface requirements" subsection.
4. We will change the "Use case" where users can access the nearest hospital without directly contacting the hospital.
5. Finally, we have switched the "Repository" from GitHub to Google Drive.
